

Coolant maintenance equipment and supplies

Appropriate coolant maintenance programs help keep operations efficient and productive. Adopting new techniques or combinations of techniques can improve current or proposed company maintenance programs.

MnTAP maintains the following list of coolant maintenance equipment and supply distributors solely as a service to Minnesota companies. This is not a complete list of available equipment, supplies or distributors and does not represent an endorsement by MnTAP. By providing the list, MnTAP does not guarantee that the products do or do not comply with environmental and safety laws in any specific application.
